

SENATOR NEWBERRY RESIGNS ON EVE OF SPECIAL CONGRESS

Michigan Senator Whose Term Has Been a Stormy One Resigns Because of Defeat of His Colleague.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 19. — Senator Truman Handy Newberry, Republican, resigned his seat in the United States Senate today. His resignation was accepted by Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, who announced he had not decided on a successor.

Mr. Newberry's resignation ended a stormy career fraught with court actions, recants, moves by the Senate to unseat him, and finally by the defeat of his colleague from Michigan, Senator Charles E. Townsend, Republican, who attributed his own defeat to his defense of Newberry.

Mr. Newberry also said he was prompted to resign by the rebuke given to Senators who voted to seat him, at the last election, and the fact that in the new Senate a move to expel undoubtedly would pass.

The statement to the Governor lays his decision to resign to the action of the voters on Senator Townsend's candidacy. He resigned on the eve of the special session of Congress after repeatedly stating for the last week that he was "willing to act on the advice of those who had handled his candidacy."

Mr. Newberry was elected Senator in 1918, defeating Henry Ford, running on the Democratic ticket, by 7,000 votes. In a bitterly contested struggle, he also was returned victor in a recount soon after the election.

Then Mr. Newberry and more than 100 of the workers who managed his campaign were indicted under the United States corrupt practices act, and Newberry, along with scores of others, was convicted and sentenced to Leavenworth prison for two years, and fined heavily.

On appeal this conviction was set aside by the United States Supreme Court, on the ground that the law was unconstitutional, and Mr. Newberry, who had not given up his seat during the trial, was pressed by members of the Senate to resign.

A motion to expel him was lost by five votes.

STONE PREDICTS AN EARLY SALE OF THE 1922 CROP

President of Burley Returns From the East With Good Report on Outlook for Sale.

That most of the tobacco crop of 1922 will be sold in winter order and taken off the hands of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association promptly was the opinion expressed by President and General Manager James C. Stone, who returned Saturday from a trip of ten days to New York and other Eastern cities, where he talked with the officials of a number of the tobacco manufacturing companies.

Mr. Stone said that he also talked with some of the leading financiers of the East and that he found a distinctly friendly disposition to exist among bankers generally toward the co-operative marketing plan, not only as it relates to tobacco but to other farm products.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said he could not say definitely when the receiving plans of the association will be opened to receive the 1922 crop, but adhered to his original statement that it will be "some time between December 1 and December 15."

Considerable progress has been made in the delivery of the 54,000,000 pounds of the 1921 crop purchased by Vice President T. H. Kirk, for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

RED CROSS DRIVE IN CITY IS PROVING VERY SUCCESSFUL

In First Week of Roll Call More Than Twice as Much Is Realized Than Was Last Year—Drive Closes Thanksgiving.

Reports from the workers in the city of Maysville on the American Red Cross Roll Call indicate that the campaign this year will be a decided success. If the county precincts do as well as the city wards have thus far done, and there is no doubt of this, the campaign will net the great organization more than twice as much cash as it did in 1921.

City precinct workers, during the first week, collected more than two and a half times as much money as was collected during the entire campaign in the city last year and there is left many days in which to pick up the edges of the campaign.

A grand close will be brought to the campaign in Mason county on Thanksgiving day and in many of the county precincts, the workers are expecting to devote their entire attention to a concentration on this one day. There will be big Thanksgiving dinners served and entertainments held and the proceeds of these special efforts will be contributed to the Red Cross.

The campaign is by no means closed and there is yet time for those who have not been seen to make a contribution. Any of the directors or precinct workers will be glad to enroll you as a member of the organization at any time.

BLOODHOUNDS USED TO TRACE HOODLUMS

Washington School Broken Open and Interior Torn Up—Bloodhounds
Unable to Follow Trail of Vandals.

During the past few months on some three or four occasions the Washington Consolidated School building has been entered between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning. On several of these occasions books have been stolen and the rest room furniture has been considerably torn up.

Monday morning when the teachers reached the school they found a large glass broken from the front door and going into the rest room on the second floor, they found the contents badly torn about the room. The matter was reported to Superintendent Turnipseed who called upon Sheriff Devore and called for the Manchester bloodhounds.

The hounds were on the job within a short time and carried the scent to the top of the steps but as the dogs had never before worked inside a building, they would not descend the stairs unless they were pulled.

The officials are determined to break up this practice or bring the culprits to justice.

NORMAL SCHOOL BOARD DEADLOCKED ON LOCATION

Commissioners Unable to Decide Between Morehead and Paintsville
For New School.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.—The meeting of the normal school commission ended in a deadlock here today over the location of the eastern Kentucky school, the final vote standing four for Morehead and four for Paintsville. Eighteen ballots were taken before the commissioners adjourned to meet again next Saturday in Lexington.

The vote showed Commissioners Sherman Goodpastor, Frankfort; E. W. Sentz, Mt. Sterling; Thomas A. Combs, Lexington, and Ed. C. O'Leary, Frankfort, holding out for Morehead as the site of the new school, and Commissioners J. L. Harmsa, Bowling Green; W. S. Wallen, Prestonsburg; Arthur Peter, Louisville, and Alex G. Barrett, Louisville, firm in their stand for Paintsville. This is the way the vote stood when the commission adjourned in a deadlock early in September.

Before taking up the eastern Kentucky situation, the commission accepted the E. R. Houston and Rainey T. Wells site at Murray for the school for western Kentucky. This site comprises 31 acres and is suitable in every way for the new school, the commission reported.

Mr. Wallen resigned as secretary of the commission at today's meeting and Mr. Sentz was named secretary and treasurer of the body.

ONE KILLED AND ONE LOSES NOSE IN VANCEBURG SCRAP

Veteran of Rainbow Division Slashed to Death With Scissors in Sunday Fight at Lewis County Capital.

Vanceburg, Ky., Nov. 20.—One man was stabbed to death, another lost a large part of his nose, and a third man was badly beaten and cut in a free-for-all fight Sunday at the home of Jack Burton.

The victim, William Hackworth, 28 years old, was stabbed through the heart with a pair of shears. Hackworth was a member of the Rainbow Division, A. E. F., and was wounded five times in France, where he was decorated for bravery.

It is alleged that Ollie Jones, 28 years old, and Sherwood Adams went to Burton's home demanding whisky. Burton said he did not have any liquor and the fight followed.

Ollie Jones is said to have stabbed Hackworth. Jones was stabbed and badly beaten. Will Wright, 20 years old, bit off a goodly part of the nose of Robert Jones, 18 years old, brother of Ollie.

The Jones, Wright and Adams are being held in jail.

MAYSVILLE MAN IS BADLY INJURED AT CHILO DAM

Mr. Harry Wise, Well Known Local Man, Badly Injured in Fall at Chilo Dam.

Mr. Harry Wise, of Forest avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wise, was very seriously injured at Chilo Dam Saturday afternoon when, in some manner, he fell from a high wall. His back and arm were injured as was also his head. He was hurriedly removed to Cincinnati hospital and reports from there last night were to the effect that his injuries were serious although not fatal.

Mr. Wise suffered an accident to one of his hands at this same dam only a few weeks ago and had just returned to his work after having been laid up at his home here.

First reports reaching Maysville Saturday evening were to the effect that the young man's neck had been broken. This report was false.

Mrs. Benjamin Poyntz and sister, Mrs. Waters Howe, who were guests the past week of Mrs. James B. Wood and Mrs. Alice Spence, left Saturday afternoon for Ft. Thomas.

WIDOW OF FORMER LOCAL PUBLISHER IS DEAD

Mrs. Lucinda Ross, Widow of Major
James J. Ross, Founder of Bulletin, Died Sunday at New York.

Mrs. Lucinda Ross, aged 85 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances S. Marbury, at Flushing, New York, Sunday afternoon after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Ross was the widow of the late Major James J. Ross, one of the founders of the Maysville Bulletin and until his death publisher of that newspaper. She was a native of Providence, R. I., but spent the greater part of her life in this city.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Marbury, one son, Mr. Robert C. Ross, of Chicago, and one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Wilson, of Limestone street, this city.

The body will be brought to Maysville Wednesday morning and the funeral will be at the Church of the Nativity, of which she was long a member, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Burial will be in the Maysville cemetery.

CREAMERY DIRECTORS ARE SELECTED.

On Saturday at the county court house Messrs. Elmer Downing and Patrick Comer were elected directors for Mason county of the Farmers Union Creamery which is to be established in this city. Directors were also chosen in Bracken, Fleming, Nicholas, Brown and Adams counties. These directors will perfect the organization. Already owners of more than seven thousand cows have pledged their cream and milk to this new farmers' organization.

LEASES MARKET STREET PROPERTY.

Sherman Ann has leased the four-story building located on the corner of Market and Second streets, belonging to Mr. J. C. Adair and others, to H. Costigan Fruit Company, for a term of years. This is the building formerly occupied by Brady-Bouldin Company. Mr. Costigan expects to move his business to this location about December first. It is his intention to enlarge his business, entering the wholesale business handling fruits and vegetables of all kinds.

SUIT TO SETTLE ESTATE.

Suit was brought in the Mason Circuit Court Monday by Emma Laytham Jones, et. als., vs. Rosa Webber Laytham, et. als., in which the settlement of the estate of the late Andrew C. Laytham by the court is asked.

GRAND JURY WILL START EXAMINATION INTO DUAL MURDER

Death of Pastor and His Beautiful Choir Leader Is Now in Hands of Grand Jury for Thorough Investigation.

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 20. — The Hall-Mills murder case will go to the grand jury today, with Prosecutor William A. Mott starting proceedings for an indictment of the "woman in gray" suspect and her "bushy-haired" male accomplice.

Because the bodies of the New Brunswick pastor and his choir singer sweetheart were found just over the county line in Somerset county, the jurors were summoned to the court house here, 15 miles from the scene of the crime. Somerville is the county seat.

Discussion by the jury of Mrs. Frances N. Hall's request that she be permitted to testify immediately was expected to occupy some time, and the authorities indicated it might be several days before they got around to direct questioning of witnesses.

Mrs. Hall, widow of the slain pastor, has requested permission to be heard in her own defense before an indictment is returned.

Charlotte Mills, motherless victim of the tragedy of Phillips farm, was among the first witnesses summoned to appear before the grand jury. There will be about 50 in all, if necessary. Mott indicated.

Probably Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," who claims she witnessed the killing and that Mrs. Hall was present, will be the star witness for the state when indictments are asked.

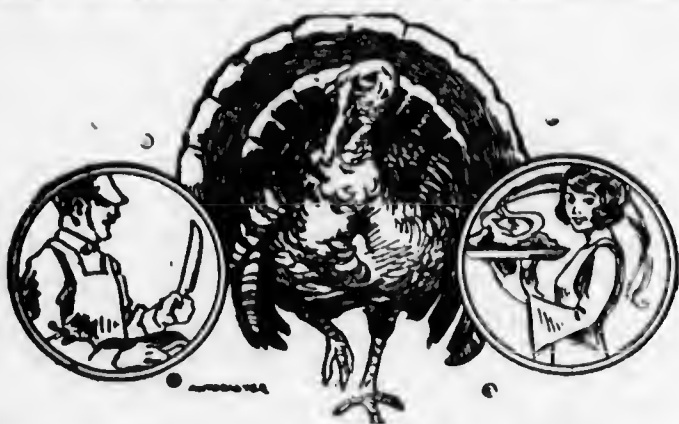

ROCK HURLING CHARGED.

Portsmouth, Ohio, Nov. 18. — Men working in N. & W. shops here are being frightened away from their rooming house when bricks are hurled through windows of the homes in the early hours of the morning. Detectives from the Federal Court are said to be here investigating these alleged violations of an injunction granted the N. & W. several weeks ago in Judge J. W. Peck's court at Cincinnati.

Mr. Bernard Melton, of McRoberts, Ky., is visiting his brother, Mr. James Melton, and family of Forest avenue.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, — "No permanent solution for European problems can come through outside suggestion," declares the Republican Publicity Association. "It is futile for the United States to attempt remedies, either acting independently or through the league of nations, as the internationalists advocate. The Old World troubles are too deep seated and have continued for too long a time to be so easily disposed of. Moreover, interference in such matters is not sought and would not be accepted. The assistance sought from America has never been of that kind. Financial aid in one form or another is what foreign nations would like to get from the United States, while they continue to nurse animosities that frequently burst into wars and are responsible for present conditions abroad."

"Secretary Hughes presented the matter very clearly when he said in his Boston speech 'the fundamental and pressing problems of Europe are political problems involving national hopes and fears; deep seated convictions as to national safety and opportunity; national ambitions, in some cases long cherished, in others recently awakened; established policies which have become postulates in the thought of the peoples. Each nation is its own judge in such matters of policy, and, whether acting in or out of groups, will follow its own interests save as some special exigency may control.'"

"Mr. Hughes might well have added national honor as being involved in the problems of Europe. This would have completed the description of the political atmosphere into which our internationalist friends seek to project the United States."

"We have been told that the league of nations would become a vital force the moment this country should become a member. Does anybody imagine this country should become a member. Does anybody imagine that American recommendations affecting the national honor, safety, and ambitions of European nations would be received any more kindly if offered through the league than if delivered independently. In neither case would such action by the United States have any other effect than to inflame the jealousies of this country that already rankle in foreign breasts. The administration policy of non-interference in those alien problems is everlastingly sound"

DOUBLE SUIT RESULTS FROM LEXINGTON ACCIDENT.

Louisville—Testimony in a double suit, in which each side is suing the other, was heard when the case of James A. Watson against the Standard Plaster Company received a hearing. Watson asks $14,820 damages for injuries when he fell from a scaffold at Lexington. He alleged that he was not employed under the term of the Workmen's compensation act. The company, which employed Watson as a plasterer, in a counter suit asks $1,200 from Watson, the amount the company claims it had to settle when William Williams, also an employee, who fell with the scaffold. Watson is blamed by the company.

Whenever my kidneys have been irregular in action or I have suffered with a weakness or lameness through the small of my back I have used a box or so of Doan's and they have always cured the attack quickly."

On November 22, 1920, Mrs. Schatzmann said: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly do all that is claimed for them. I gladly recommend them again. Doan's gave me a lasting cure."

COMMENT

The boys and girls of town will be trying to draw pictures for the next week or two, having seen how easily it is done.

Wonder what the boys will have to put their wagers on after the Thanksgiving foot ball games are played.

From the way some of the visitors at the Orangeburg school dedication are reported to have eaten, we judge they only partook of a light lunch Sunday.

Coch Schneider gave the students of High School some pretty straight talk on school spirit a few days ago and there's no doubt but that they needed it. The town people have never given the High School athletics the support they should have and much of it is probably due to a lack of interest on the part of the student body itself.

It is to be hoped that our County Commissioners will not let the press of other business cause them to overlook the matter of giving our court house a covering of stucco. The old court house certainly needs attention badly and stucco will add much to its attractiveness and solve the problem of exterior decoration for years.

There's no use talking, its absolutely impossible for a "tin Lizzie" to butt a street car off the track. This impossibility has been proven too many times in Maysville.

Maysville is certainly one town that can be called a "Saturday night town." On Saturday evening the local stores are crowded from dark until late with city shoppers. In many cities the stores are closed at 6 o'clock Saturday night. In Maysville this would be a big handicap to the shoppers.

The Vanceburg Sun has suggested that the merchants and residents of the Lewis county capital follow Flemingsburg's example and organize a Mutual Fire Insurance Company. There appears to be a general revolt in this section against the old-line companies' rates.

Every business house in the business district of Maysville is now occupied except one. What has become of that fellow who said only a little while ago that times would soon be so dull that half the business houses in town would be empty and weeds would grow in the streets?

Our Daily Poem

"NOT UNDERSTOOD"

(By THOMAS BRACKEN, New Zealand Poet.)

Not understood, we move asunder,
Our paths go wider as the seasons creep

Along the years. We marvel and we wonder Why life is life, and then we go to sleep—

Not understood, we gather false impressions
And hug them closer as the years go by,

'Till virtue oft seems to us transgression
And thus men rise and fall and live and die—

Not understood, we make so much of trifles;
The thoughtless sentence or the fancied slight

Has oft destroyed a friendship years in making
And on our souls there fall a chilly blight—

Not understood, how many breasts are aching
For words of sympathy Ah! yes, to-day

How many hungry hearts are breaking,
How many noble spirits pass away—

Not understood.

New York Letter

New York. — The artistic genius has changed according to people who keep close contact with out annual autumn rush of its claimants to this metropolitan. Every fall they come, by the hundreds, or probably thousands, intent of finding fame and fortune here where they know there must be a welcome and opportunity for it. Most of them are girls, and they used to cause heartaches and worries to the kindly unofficial protectors of the young who tried to help them keep their heads above water in this maelstrom. They were "artists," they insisted and they would do nothing except such things as were consistent with their "art."

Today, that superiority-consciousness seems vanished. The girls who crowd into our city to paint, act, or achieve distinction in any other art, are perfectly glad to sell blouses, answer a telephone or do anything else to supply food and shelter while they await Opportunity. In spite of the changes against "this awful generation," its budding geniuses have never been so sensible, we find.

one of this publishing friends to sell books for the holiday rush. He took the place thinking it would give him first hand information on public taste in literature. One of this first customers was an obvious nouveau riche.
She inquired for a "boy's story by an author whose name begins with O." Ernest was entirely facetious when he suggested Omar Kayham. "That's it," she said. She insisted on its being illustrated and he found a gorgeous edition bound in blue suede, illustrated by Dulac. She went through the print and the pictures carefully, and then said, "Well, I'll take it to him and see how he likes it. Still I don't know, he is reading red books this year, and he has a perfectly gorgeous collection." Ernest is satisfied with the connection for this one indication of taste.

"Merton of the Movies" had to be done into a play by Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman. No one else I can think of except its original author, Harry Leon Wilson, could have tampered with it without endangering the deliciousness of its satire. And they have done it as well as we know they would. Glenn Hunter is the same pathetically absurd, heroic, Merton Gil-whom Harry Wilson created, and Florence Nash is perfect as "That Moutague Girl." The acting helps to keep the play true to the book, but it was in the making of the play that things might easily have lost their values. So all of us who reveled in the comedy of the story give thanks.

Winifred Holt, young god-mother to the Lighthouse for the Blind, has done a thing which makes her hold upon our hearts stronger than ever. When invitations were issued for her marriage to Graves Mather, she asked all her friends to give only money as their wedding gifts; and that money is being turned over to the Lighthouse. Mr.
Mather himself responded with a check for $3,500 which is already being used for her blind proteges, and the outside public was so appealed to by the idea that an anonymous check for five thousand dollars was received.

The opening of the new building of the American Art Association is an event notable in the art history of this country. The association started in 1883 in one little room when Thomas E. Kirby was asked by James F. Sutton to join him and R. Austin Robinson in forming the organization. Its new place on Madison avenue is one of the finest buildings of its kind in the world.
